ABOUT NEXTERS

Nexters is an international game development company which strives to introduce the joy of core gaming experiences to casual players.

Thanks to our hit games like Hero Wars, Throne Rush, and others we've reached over 100 million installs worldwide, built a team of 500+ inspired game developers, and become one of the top five independent mobile game companies in Europe.

As our company prepares to go public this year on NASDAQ, we have tremendous plans for the future. We welcome new talent to join in our mutual growth and help establish us as the new leader in the industry.

OUR STORY

Nexters story dates back to 2010 when the future friends and founders of Nexters first met.

Those days Andrey Fadeev was running a social games development studio, and Boris Gertsovskiy was shaping his plans on starting a game business.

Later Andrey's Progrestar and Boris' Crazy Bit began its partnership, which resulted in the birth of Nexters...

OUR VALUES

CONTRIBUTE YOUR WAY

Everyone can add value to the world - we follow our own path of enriching casual gaming and provide opportunities to everyone who shares our goals and values.

ENJOY ACHIEVEMENTS

Striving for results always pays off - in our team we cherish competence regardless of rank, while as a company we benefit from our performance based business approach.

KEEP ON EVOLVING

Big things are done with big ambitions - we are always focused on 'What's Next?' and pursuing players excited, our team more skilled and our business more successful.
